Reumacare
Prasarani Sandhan
Syrup, 200 ml

Description
Reumacare (Prasarani Sandhan) is a liquid Ayurvedic medicine which is a combination of essential antirheumatic medicinal plants. It is especially for rheumatoid arthritis and removes all sorts of rheumatic diseases.

Composition
Each 5 ml Reumacare syrup contains extracts of Prasarani (Paederia foetida) 2.44 gm, Rason (Allium sativum) 0.61 gm, Pipul (Piper longum - Root) 0.15 gm, Pipul (Piper longum-Fruit) 0.15 gm, Choi (Piper cheba) 0.15 gm, Chitamul (Plumbago rosea) 0.15 gm, Shunthi (Zingiber officinale) 0.15 gm and other ingredients.
Ref: Prasarani Sandhan, B.N.A.F.-2011

Pharmacology
Prasarani (Paederia foetida): It contains iridiod glycosides, paederolone, paederone, paederine and paederinine. It has tonic, anti-inflammatory (antiphlogistic) and astringent activities. It is mainly used for arthritis and rheumatic ailments.

Rason (Allium sativum): It contains protein, minerals, thiamine, riboflavin, niacin, folic acid and amino acids - leucin & methionine. It is very useful drug for rheumatism and is used as an effective long term preventive treatment for all rheumatic conditions. It is effective in gout and sciatica.

Chitamul (Plumbago rosea): It contains plubbagin, sitosterol and glucoside. It is acrid, abortifacient, vesicant and stimulant. It is used in the treatment of rheumatism and paralytic affections.

Indications
- Rheumatoid arthritis
- Lumbago
- Sciatica

Dosage & Administration
Adult: 2 tea-spoonful’s 2-3 times daily after meal.
OR AS DIRECTED BY THE PHYSICIAN

Side effect
No side effect or adverse effect if used at recommended dose

Contraindications
Not reported

Use in Pregnancy & Lactation
Not recommended

Supply
200 ml syrup in PET bottle with a measuring cup

Keep all medicines out of reach of children.
Store in a cool and dry place, protected from light.

* Further information is available on request

The ACME Laboratories Ltd.
Ayurvedic Division
DHAMRAI, DHAKA, BANGLADESH